Description of Property and Justification: (Please attach map and photo)

The primary structure located on this small (12.5 ac) farm is a two story frame four-square style house built c. 1920 standing at the top of an embankment overlooking the intersection of Reich's Ford Road and Bartonsville Road. The house is three bays wide with a transom and sidelights surrounding the main door which is arranged in a window-door-window configuration sheltered by a one story wrap-around porch. The house has a hipped roof with a hipped-roof dormer in the front elevation. All windows are two over two sash. The house is covered with vinyl siding and asphalt roofing material and has two red brick chimneys visible just beyond the peak of the roof toward the rear of the house. There is a small collection of frame outbuildings around the house and a gambrel roofed barn that is of newer construction than the house.

The property is recommended for NR eligibility under criterion C as an example of an early 20th century American Foursquare style farmhouse. Although the original siding has been covered with vinyl, the hipped roof, window sash, entrance surround and the wraparound porch all communicate the original character of the dwelling representing a farmhouse of the early 20th century. In addition, some of the domestic outbuildings survive and contribute to the scene. The barn is no longer standing and the property was most likely part of a larger farm now divided, thus its potential contribution to the knowledge of agricultural history under criterion A is limited.
